DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims 4 and 5 drawn to an invention nonelected without traverse in Applicant's response filed 7/10/06. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of copending Application No. 10/670,770. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the copending application broadly includes all the limitations disclosed in the present application. Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See MPEP § 804.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Li (US Pat 5,339,950).

With respect to claim 1, Li discloses a case, comprising: a case body (Li Fig 1 ref 10); an associated lid (2,3) opening and closing the case body; an ornamental exchangeable cover (4) replaceably attached to at least one of the lid and the case body to cover them, the ornamental exchangeable cover being configured to be slidable in a direction substantially parallel to a top surface of either the lid or the case body; a slide engagement member (Not labeled but see channels directly behind ref 32) provided cooperatively between the lid and the exchangeable cover to permit the exchangeable cover to slidably fit on the lid; and a fastening member (32) provided cooperatively between the lid and the exchangeable cover to permit either the lid or the case body to hold and release the exchangeable cover along its sliding direction. With respect to claim 2, Li discloses that the slide engagement member has a concave portion (Not labeled but see channels directly behind ref 32) provided in the lid along a sliding direction of the cover, and a convex portion (42) provided in the component without the concave portion and slidably fitted in the concave portion, and the fastening member is an detachable projection elastically deformable (column 2, lines 27-28) in the concave portion and detachably mated with the convex portion (Fig 1 generally).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Li (US Pat 5,339,950) in view of Connolly et al., (US Pat 946,057).

With respect to claim 3, Li discloses all the limitations of the claim except the concave portion having a dent the convex portion is detachably fitted in. However, Connolly teaches a concave/rolled edge portion (Fig 3 at ref 24; see also column 4, lines 7-10) having a dent/hole (26) for a convex portion (16a) in a component without the concave portion to lock the lid to the box so that it does not come off the box inadvertently (column 3, lines 40-44). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the concave portion of Li to include a dent, as taught by Connolly, for the purpose of better securing the convex portion of the exchangeable cover to the lid and to further prevent inadvertent removal.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The reply is not fully responsive to the prior Office Action because of the following omission(s) or matter(s): Applicant did not respond to the double patenting rejection. Please address the rejection in Applicant's next response.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kitoh et al., (US Pat 4,580,586) discloses a vanity case with a lid, a case body, a slide engagement member and a fastening member. Marconi (US Pat No 6,173,837) discloses a case with exchangeable ornamental covers.
